INDEX

acht, 2:132
ommercial speech, 3:56-58
ate, 3:10-11, 14-16
w value, 3:8, 15, 16
cketing as, 3:18-20
obolic, 2:132, 133; 3:17-18
ch and debate clause, 1:41-43 ch plus, 3:18
y trial, 3:114-115
ourts' interpretations of, 3:115 amers' intent in, 3:115
y Trial Act, 3:115
er, Herbert, 2:40
iding
xander Hamilton's legacy, 1:56-57 ouse of Representatives vs. Senate's power to, 1:46 pounding, 1:47
ower to, 1:56-57, 76
resident's power in, 1:46-47 ited States v. Butler, 1:56-57 of the Laws, The (Montesquieu), 1:101 ager v. United States, 4:79 ap Act, 2:84
ey v. Georgia, 3:50; 4:52
ton, Elizabeth Cady, 4:87
t v. Stanton, 4:32
, Kenneth, 3:107
a, 4:73
government
erved power of, 1:10
mission of new states and territories clause, 2:61-63 irmative action, 4:36
ill of Rights and criminal procedure, 2:93-94 first Amendment and, 2:98-99 outright Amendment protecting all citizens against, 4:9 outright Amendment to prohibit state discrimination, 4:10 wsuits against and Eleventh Amendment, 3:139-140 ower of and Tenth Amendment, 3:135-136 ghts of and federalism, 2:73-76
 v. Bradwell, 4:30
l seizure case, 1:127-128 monander-in-chief clause and, 1:137 ilization of habitual criminals, 4:59 ns, John Paul, 2:45; 4:60, 68 ternet, 3:53
ts, Ted, 1:40
ts, Thaddeus, 4:70
art, Potter, 2:12, 108
on obscenity, 2:99, 131; 3:48, 49 one, Harlan Fiske, 2:138, 139 one v. Graham, 2:104
one v. Powell, 3:87
ory, Joseph, 1:44; 2:61; 3:55
ography of, 3:121
on fugitive slaves, 3:150-151 on right to bear arms, 3:66 on right to jury, 3:122 strader v. Graham, 2:35 Strict scrutiny, 3:36; 4:16
free speech, 2:131
Strict separation interpretation for establishment clause, 2:111-112 Subpoena power of Congress, 1:99 of grand jury, 3:107
Substantive due process, 2:41; 3:96-100 abortion and, 3:99-100 Fourteenth Amendment and, 4:13 post-Civil War use, 3:98 pros and cons of, 3:99 public vs. private purposes, 3:99-100 rights protected, 3:98-99 ugarman v. Dougall, 1:71 Suicide
physician-assisted, 4:53-54, 68 Suits at common law, 3:121-122
ullivan, L. B., 3:1-2, 4
Summer, Charles, 4:5
Sunshine laws, 3:45
Supremacy clause, 2:71-73 constitutional interpretation, 2:72-73 federalism and, 2:71
judicial review and, 2:72
sovereignty, popular, 2:72
Supreme Court authority of, 2:21-22 bills of attainder, 1:105-107 contemporary judicial review era, 2:43 court-packing plan, 1:6; 2:42 debate over interpreting the law, 2:45 distinction between economic and political rights, 2:44-45 emergency power and, 1:123-124 establishment of, 1:5
on federal-state relations, 2:34 Franklin D. Roosevelt and, 1:64, 65
judicial review and, 1:11
national power and, 2:34-35 nominations to, 2:10-11 political questions, 2:25-26, 33 presidency and national security, 1:125, 127-128 on slavery, 2:34-35 weakness of early, 2:33-34
Supreme Court of New Hampshire v. Piper, 2:53 Suspect classification, 4:16 gender discrimination and, 4:32, 33-34
Swann v. Charlotte-Mecklenburg Board of Education, 4:26
Stewart v. Painter, 4:19
Switch in time that saved nine, 2:42
Symbolic speech, 2:132, 133; 3:17-18 arm bands, 3:17; 25-26
free speech, 2:97
System of vilenage, 3:88

T

Taft, William Howard, 1:45; 4:80 on presidential removal power, 2:18-19
Taft-Hartley Act, 1:47, 48, 123, 128
Takings clause, 3:110-113 criticisms of, 3:112 evolution of, 3:112
historical overview of, 3:110-111 in nineteenth century, 3:111 public use issue, 3:112 in twentieth century, 3:111-112
Talbot v. Seeman, 1:86
Taney, Roger B., 1:102, 110; 2:34, 65; 3:97
on fugitive slave clause, 2:61
Tasco v. Watkins, 2:81
Tariff, 4:78
Taxation
direct taxes, 1:75
early years, 1:55-56
federal income, 4:78-80
flat, 4:79
House of Representatives power of, 1:21 indirect taxes, 1:75
power to, 1:54-56, 75
progressive, 4:79
regressive, 4:78-79
regulatory purposes and, 1:56, 57 taxes in nineteenth century, 4:78-79 Taylor, Zachary, 4:109 veto record of, 1:49
Teapot Dome scandal, 1:102
Telecommunications Act, 3:35
Television
access to, 3:48
cameras in court, 3:119-120 free speech and, 2:135
must-carry, 3:48
See also Broadcasting
Temperance movement, 4:84
Ten Commandments, 2:118
Tenth Amendment, 2:74, 97; 3:139

147